

WELCOME TO WEST ORANGE, NEW JERSEY

The Township of West Orange is a flourishing suburban sanctuary that is the envy of Essex County. With a dynamic, global population of almost 50,000 residents, West Orange is known for its rich history as well as its cosmopolitan appeal. Former home to legendary inventor Thomas Edison's laboratories, West Orange is now the future home to 'Edison Village,' featuring upscale, full-service residential townhouses with breathtaking views of the Manhattan skyline. Close-knit neighborhoods offer a diverse selection of housing options. From million-dollar mansions, colonials, split-levels and capes, to condominium complexes, townhouses and newly-constructed neighborhood enclaves, West Orange presents an assorted housing stock for all types of budgets.
